National Year of Reading 2026

Fewer children, young people and adults are reading for pleasure each year, and many say they don't feel motivated to read. When people read less, gaps in confidence, skills and opportunities grow.

Reading isn't just a skill; it's a way to explore your interests and the world around you.

Reading together with young children encourages natural two-way communication - children listen, respond, ask questions and share their own ideas. Shared reading strengthens the emotional connection between parent or caregiver and child by offering closeness, attention and shared moments of joy.

The National Year of Reading 2026 aims to reconnect people of all ages with reading as something exciting, relevant and enjoyable.

Whether you're into gaming, football, baking, music, or have a desire to spend more time with your children, reading can help you get more out of the things you already love. It could be a novel, comic, magazine article, non-fiction book, football programme, online blog, or an audiobook, every kind of reading counts!

Warm Welcome Week

During Warm Welcome Week, we ignite a wave of warmth and positivity at the coldest time of the year.

January can be tough for many, which is why we transform 'Blue Monday' into a vibrant celebration. Encouraging everyone to don warm colours and embrace creativity with hues of pink, orange, red, and purple to help chase away the winter blues. The goal is to share the joy, warmth, and magic of Warm Welcome Spaces and to encourage everyone to find a welcoming spot close to home.

Warm
Welcome Week

Warm Welcome Week kicks off on Blue Monday and lasts for seven days: Monday 19 January to Sunday 25 January, 2026.

Our libraries are warm, welcoming spaces where everyone belongs. We provide free access to knowledge, technology, and culture in a safe, inclusive environment. Through learning, creativity, and community connection, we empower individuals and celebrate diversity. Here, every voice matters, and every person is valued.

Libraries are open to all, regardless of age, background, income, or identity, and are trusted public spaces where people can gather without judgment or pressure to spend money.

Take a look at this brochure, or visit libraries.haringey.gov.uk to see events, workshops, and social activities that foster belonging and reduce isolation. If you are just looking to get out of the cold, come in and spend some time with a book!

Holocaust Memorial Day

Holocaust Memorial Day is observed on 27 January, commemorating the liberation of Auschwitz-Birkenau, the largest Nazi death camp. This day centres around the Holocaust, where we remember the six million Jewish men, women, and children who were murdered, along with millions more who suffered under Nazi persecution. We also take time to reflect on other instances of persecution in Cambodia, Rwanda, Bosnia, and Darfur.

Each year, individuals across the UK gather to learn about the past, deepen their empathy for those affected today, and strive to create a better future. Together, we stand as witnesses for communities that endured attempts at annihilation, honouring the survivors and all those whose lives were irrevocably changed.

The theme for Holocaust Memorial Day 2026, "Bridging Generations", serves as a call to action. It reminds us that the responsibility of remembrance does not conclude with the survivors; rather, it continues through their children, grandchildren, and all of us. This theme encourages us to actively engage with the past: listening, learning, and carrying those lessons forward. In doing so, we construct a bridge between memory and action, linking history to hope for the future.

As time passes, we grow increasingly distant from the Holocaust and other recent genocides commemorated on HMD. This distance poses a risk: memory may fade, and the stark reality of those events can become blurred, abstract, or even questioned.

Bridging Generations emphasizes the vital role of the next generation in preserving the memory of the Holocaust and carrying it forward. It underscores the importance of intergenerational dialogue: listening to those who came before us and sharing their stories with those who follow. By doing so, we not only preserve memory but also connect it to the present.

Genocide does not discriminate by age; infants, children, adults, and the elderly have all endured unimaginable suffering in various ways. In many instances, entire family lines were erased. Bridging Generations invites us to honour each life and remember those who left no family to carry on their legacy, whose stories endure not through bloodlines but through books, films, and other interpretations.

Chronicles of Whetherwhy, The Age of Enchantment by Anna James

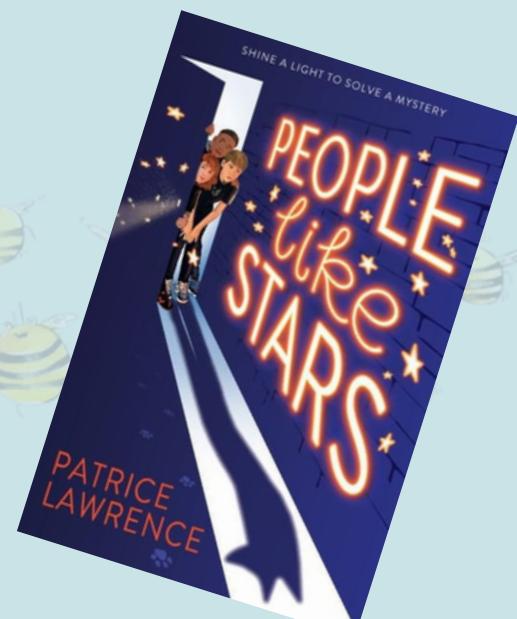

In Whetherwhy, everyone has magic inside them – grown from the changing seasons of spring, summer, autumn and winter. But a rare few are Enchanters: people born with magic in their bones, who can wield all four seasons of magic.

When Juniper discovers she is an Enchanter, she must leave behind everything she knows to begin studying at the Thistledown Academy of Enchantment. Unwilling to be left behind, her twin brother, Rafferty, decides to follow her to the capital city of Stormgrove and takes up an apprenticeship at a nearby bookbinder. As Juniper makes new friends and learns how to wield enchantment, Rafferty becomes involved with a mysterious secret society that meet after dark. Monsters are creeping out of the shadows and dangers lurk in unexpected places. Amid night markets and magic lessons, they both realise there is more to enchantment – and life in Whetherwhy – than they could ever have imagined.

The Beck by Anthony McGowan

Kyle is less than happy about getting dumped at his eccentric old grandad's on a Saturday afternoon.

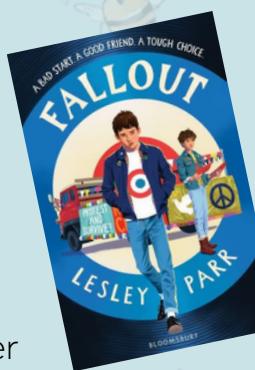

Embarrassed by his grandad's ratty old Elvis wig and his weird three-legged dog, Kyle thinks the day is going to be a nightmare until his grandad introduces him to the marvels in the beck at the bottom of his garden. Once filthy and full of rubbish, the stream has been cleaned up and is now home to some amazing creatures. But this magical world is under threat from a new development. Kyle's grandad is determined to stop the builders and has an audacious plan to save the beck, but when he falls ill, will Kyle find the courage to carry it out by himself?

Fallout by Lesley Parr

Is Marcus's fate decided by his family? Or can he stand up for himself to become the person he really wants to be?

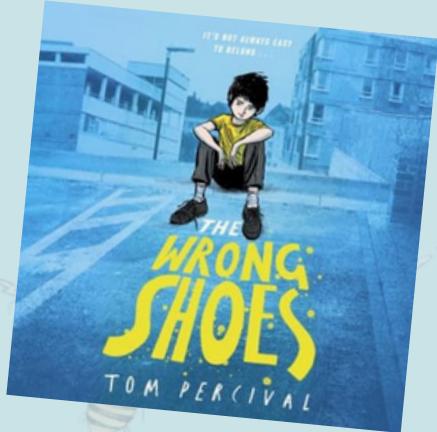

Marcus has one brother in a youth offender centre and the other is working with their dad on plans for their next theft. Everyone assumes Marcus will follow in their footsteps, but he has other ideas, different hopes. When a mysterious accident lands a man in hospital, it confirms what everyone in their community expects and Marcus gets the blame. He feels trapped. Only new girl Emma – with her peace protest banners and political badges – questions this story. Can they work together to clear his name – and help Marcus become the person he really wants to be?

The Wrong Shoes by Tom Percival

There's a bunch of kids in there and suddenly they're all looking at me like someone who can actually do something, not just some weirdo with the wrong shoes and a rubbish coat...

Will has the wrong shoes – he's always known it but doesn't know how to change it. Navigating the difficulties of home and school when you feel you stick out is tough, but finding confidence with the help and empathy of friends can be all you need to see the way.

Birdie by J.P. Rose

When Birdie is sent to live with her great-aunt in 1950s Yorkshire, she befriends the village's last remaining pit pony. A story of hope and courage, exploring themes of family, racism and identity.

Having grown up in a children's home for mixed race children in 1950s Leeds, now she has come to live with her great-aunt in the Yorkshire Dales. From her arrival, Birdie is treated like an outsider by the local children. When their bullying drives Birdie to hide in the nearby coal mine, she finds an unexpected rescuer in the form of Mr Duke, the last remaining pit pony in the village. As the weeks pass, Birdie forms a special bond with the spirited little pony. But his future is in danger, and Birdie comes up with a daring plan to save his life in return...

In 'Off The Rails', Sally Gimson, writer, journalist and politician, gives the first major account of HS2 – and how it went so wrong.

News flash: Christian Wolmar - Britain's leading transport commentator - will join Sally in conversation.

'A jaunty account of a monumental cock-up. Makes the unbelievable readable.'
Sir Michael Palin

'Penetrating, fair and ultimately furious.' Financial Times

It was supposed to be the crown jewel of British rail, the vital link connecting London, Birmingham, Manchester, and Leeds. Instead, High-Speed 2 has become a national scandal. Dogged by mismanagement, overspending, and incompetence, this multi-billion-pound project has collapsed, leaving a "bleeding stump" and costing taxpayers tens of billions. The central London terminus, Euston, is still unreachable. Join us to hear from Sally as she presents a forensic examination of this implosion. Travelling from demolished council estates in Camden to ghost towns along the cancelled Northern branch, Sally meets the politicians, engineers, and ordinary people affected. Sally will tell us how and why such a vital social project went disastrously off the rails.

Tickets are £10, including a glass of wine or soft drink.

Maintenance Work at Hornsey Library

The adults' section of Hornsey Library is partially open after Haringey Council implemented stringent and comprehensive measures for residents to access this area safely and securely.

Back in March, the council announced that the adults' section would remain closed while works continued to address issues around the presence of Reinforced Autoclaved Aerated Concrete (RAAC) in a section of the roof. Other parts of the library do not contain RAAC and are not impacted.

The safety of library users has been – and will always be – the number one priority and it has naturally taken some time to ensure that all the necessary precautions are in place so that no members of the public or library staff are put at risk. These safety measures on-site remain a temporary solution while the council develops comprehensive plans for the removal of RAAC.

Despite the partial re-opening of the adults' section, there remains limited access to PCs at Hornsey Library.

We show regular films throughout the month,
picked from our wide catalogue of feature length films.

Our story so far...

HORNSEY LIBRARY friends

We are independent and work in partnership with the library team.

We are dedicated to ensuring the library remains an essential and thriving community hub for everyone.

We host inspiring events:

We organise popular Author Talks, book launches, and cultural events that bring renowned writers and thinkers right to Crouch End.

Advocacy: We act as a strong, unified voice for the library, highlighting its importance to local government and the wider community.

In the future we plan to:

Enhance Library Spaces: Raise funds for items that enrich the building, such as upgrading equipment, supporting the beautiful Zen Garden, or providing materials for special activities.

+ Support activities for Children and Young People in the Library

Shared Reading Groups

The book group with no preparation required: Shared Reading groups are open to all and free to attend.

A group of people, one of them a trained Reader Leader, reads a great novel, short story or poem aloud. We stop and talk about what we have read. There is no need for group members to read aloud or speak – it's fine to just listen. The idea is to create a space where people feel at ease.
